ESASO Institutional course

ESASO offers several options to corporate and non-profit entities to demonstrate their commitment to improving high-level education within the ophthalmic field by providing financial support to the ESASO courses.

- Unrestricted educational grant: a contribution to the costs of the ESASO Institutional courses organization as an educational activity
- Industry-Sponsored satellite symposium: the opportunity to organize a 30-minute satellite symposium in one of the course's days, being therefore able to attract the entire event's audience
- Material used for hands-on courses: provision of surgical instruments, equipment, or other material in exchange for visibility/promotional opportunities
- Possibility to show the logo in all course material

Please note that all the ESASO educational activities could apply for European CME accreditation.

● Fundraising project

As a Foundation dedicated to eye education, ESASO aspires to help doctors and patients all around the world, providing medical education for eye care professionals in all countries.

ESASO organizes tailor-made programs to provide top-level education to communities in need, following the specific local requests. Thanks to this project, ESASO offers ophthalmologists who live in underprivileged countries (due to war, economic difficulty, political instabilities, ...) the opportunity to learn how to manage specific local complications and the opportunity to improve their knowledge.

The programs can include a full educational journey in Lugano (or in another ESASO Campus) or in their country. After this experience the professional would be able to support patients and to help colleagues in the daily practice, creating a virtuous circle.

ESASO offers several options to corporate and non-profit entities to demonstrate their commitment to improving high-level education within the ophthalmic field by providing financial support to the ESASO fundraising project.
